Other worlds

Once again, Oxfordshire bursts into life this spring with as many as a thousand artists of all ages at more than 400 county venues.

The longest-running event in the UK lands in Watlington and Henley from May 16th to 25th.

Colourful local highlights include your chance to enjoy mosaics and abstract paintings in an exploration of other worlds with Jane Slemeck. Jane will open her home and studio in Watlington freely to visitors as one of many venues taking part in Oxfordshire Artweeks.

Over in Henley, two Artweeks artists are holding exhibitions in Henley's River & Rowing Museum (admission charge applies) where you can see beautifully crafted bespoke furniture by Philip Koomen celebrating 40 years of designing and making, and a series of black-and-white photographs by Simon Murison Bowie, shown previously at Modern Art Oxford, capturing craftspeople at work.

While you're at the River & Rowing Museum, it is well worth going Through The Looking Glass with illustrations by Arthur Rackham (1867-1939) until the end of May. Rackham's illustrations, including those for Peter Pan in Kensington Gardens and Wind in the Willows, have both charmed and terrified generations of children and adults all around the world.

Artweeks is held across Oxfordshire from May 2nd to May 25th. For full details, visit www.artweeks.org
