the

On the mend

We live in an age of waste, with our tips and recycling centres close to capacity. Woking Community Furniture Partnership is here to help us dump wasteful ways.

Ron Willcox, 64, who moved to Sheerwater 40 years ago with his wife, has been involved with WCFP for three years. This charity project, based at North Road (GU21 5DT) was set up in 1988. The team work with churches, housing associations and social services to identify those who most need help and to provide valuable work skills and support to the long-term unemployed and disadvantaged.

“Our goal is to help the community and environment,” says Ron. “Our staff and volunteers can collect donated household items, refurbishing them where necessary and making low-cost reusable items for those in need.

“We waste too much these days; if you’re having a clear-out, you can be an eco-warrior by remembering the three Rs: reuse, repair and recycle.”

If you are receiving benefits or suffering hardship, you can benefit from free items for those in need and discounts on the stock. “You can pick up real bargains!” adds Ron.

“Buying quality reused items helps make ends meet.

“Volunteers are the backbone of most charities. They rely heavily on the time and skills of those who help. If you can spare a few hours a week you will be give a warm welcome and you will be helping your community whilst making some new friends.”

Surrey has numerous furniture reuse charities that will collect your unwanted furniture electrical and household items, usually for free. Contact Surrey reuse network by visiting www.surreyreusenetwork.org.uk or you can call 0800 082 0180.
